ROJESTVENSKY MAY NOT LIVE

IS A PRISONER IN A JAPANESE HOSPITAL

Slight Hope Entertained of His Recovery — Additional Incidents of the Sanguinary Battle and Russian Losses.

ROJESTVENSKY MAY DIE.

Nagasaki, June 1.—A report reaches here to the effect that little hopes are entertained for the recovery of Rojestvensky, now in a hospital at Sasebo. His wounds consist of a severe bruise on the forehead, a slight fracture of the skull and other slight wounds. Fully 3,800 Russian prisoners have been landed.

Three damaged Russian vessels have drifted ashore off the coast of the province of Nagato. The fate of the remainder of the crew of the British steamer Oldhamia at present is uncertain. They were on board the Russian battleship Orel, but it is supposed they afterward were transferred to a transport. It is rumored the Russian armored cruisers Rossia and Gromoboi were sunk by torpedo boats.

Russian torpedo boats from Vladivostok captured the Japanese steamer Daishen off Hokkaido and placed a prize crew of thirteen men on board with orders to take the vessel to port. By mistake the Russian commander of the Daishen headed for Gen San and met a Japanese transport. The Japanese captives aboard the steamer, on seeing their compatriots, attacked the prize crew and recaptured the vessel and eventually took her to Gen San. The Russian prize crew has been taken captives to Sasebo.

ESTIMATE OF RUSSIAN LOSSES.

Tokio, June 1.—A rough estimate made of Russian losses in the naval battle, exclusive of nearly 4,000 prisoners, varies from 7,000 to 9,000. It is feared a majority perished. Many bodies have been washed ashore near the scene of the battle. The necessity for secrecy no longer existing, the navy department confirms the report of the loss of the Japanese battleship Yashima off Port Arthur in May, 1904, and announces the other naval losses heretofore withheld in the vicinity of Port Arthur were as follows: Torpedo boat destroyers Akatsuki and Ylatore, protected cruiser Takasago, sunk by mines; the gunboat Oshima, sunk in collision, and the gunboat Atgo struck a rock.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Washington, June 1.—The state department over night received the following cablegram from Tokio:

"It is stated in the official reports that in addition to the main fighting force, most of the second class Russian cruisers and subsidiary vessels were destroyed so that the whole Russian fleet was practically annihilated. The Russian cruisers Aurora and Almaz were probably sunk. Attention is called to the fact the Japanese torpedo operations were highly successful and that a majority of the large Russian vessels were sunk as a result of them. During the progress of the battle there was considerable mist and fog, which prevented a comprehensive report."

The Japanese legation to day made public the following dispatch from Tokio:

"Eighth report from Togo, received on May 31—Commander Kasuga returned this afternoon with survivors of the Dmitri Donski and reports the Donski the morning of the 28th by opening the kingston valve sunk and those on board including survivors from the Oslabia and destroyer Bouiruy were landed on the Urleum island. It appears the Bulky took aboard Rojestvensky and staff before the sinking of the flagship in the afternoon of the 27th and also 200 from the Oslabia, but finding navigation difficult transferred Rojestvensky to the Bledovy and while running northward met on the morning of the 28th the Donski to which all on board were transferred and the Bulky sank herself. The Oslabia, according to other survivors, had her coming down struck at the first straight shot of the battle on the 27th and Admiral Voelkersham was killed and after a succession of shots the vessel sank at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The survivors of the Donski say they saw two destroyers sink in the thick of the battle at noon the 27th. This, it is true, makes five Russian destroyers sunk."

Japanese Minister Takahira to-day had a brief talk with the president about the situation in the far east. At the conclusion of the interview Takahira declined to make public the details of his conversation with the president. He said the mikado's government is not ready yet to state its peace terms.

Minister Griscom at Tokio cables it has been officially announced that Admiral Voelkersham was killed and not captured, as previously reported.

Washington, June 1.—Russia will officially know how ready this government is to assist her in commencing peace negotiations with Japan at the earliest possible moment, if the Russian ambassador carries out that intention of seeing the president to-morrow.

For two days the ambassador has been planning to call at the white house and would have asked for an appointment this afternoon but for the fact that the president was engaged in opening the Lewis and Clark exposition. The ambassador said to night he hoped to make an appointment for to-morrow. Indirectly Cassini is already informed of the willingness of the president to take up the question of peace terms with Japan provided Russia is prepared to discuss the subject in good faith, but unless he receives instructions from his government between now and the time he calls on the president the ambassador will personally express his firm conviction that his government has no intention of negotiating with Japan at this time. It was suggested to night that failure to receive advices from St. Petersburg regarding the attitude of the emperor was one reason why Cassini had deferred his call at the white house.

The whole situation was thoroughly discussed in an informal way by Cassini with the German ambassador, who dined at the Russian embassy to night, after having had a conference with the president earlier in the day. Indicative of the importance of the two conferences of the German ambassador was the statement of the Russian ambassador late to night that he hoped to see the president within the next twenty-four hours.

LAND OPERATIONS.

Headquarters Russian Army, Godzyadani, Manchuria, May 30. (Delayed).—The principal body of prisoners taken by Lieutenant General Mistchenko during his long detour along the Mongolian border and in his attack on Nogi's Fakoman-Shimatin communications, arrived to day. Nogi's semi-circular position north of Fakoman is believed to be very formidable. The railroad between the lines have been entirely removed and there has been the most complete destruction of bridges. The first news of the long expected battle between Rojestvensky and Togo arrived here to day. Details are awaited with great anxiety.

EXPOSITION OPENS

President Roosevelt Starts Into Operation the Lewis and Clark Show

Washington, June 1.—President Roosevelt in the presence of his cabinet, resident members of the diplomatic corps and distinguished guests, pressed the button in the east room of the white house at 4:22 p. m. to day which formally opened the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland, Ore. The electric flash sounded the chimes in the government building on the exposition grounds and started the machinery of the exposition. A battery of artillery, stationed immediately south of the white house, fired the national salute of twenty-one guns, beginning at the instant the president pressed the telegraph key.

The president made a brief speech recounting the objects of the exposition and benefits derived from such displays. Congratulatory messages were exchanged between President Roosevelt and President Goodoe of the exposition company. When the formal exchange of messages had been concluded, President and Mrs. Roosevelt extended personal greetings to the assembled guests. Baron Mayor des Planches, Italian ambassador, as dean of the diplomatic corps, in the absence of Count Cassini, Russian ambassador, leading the line with Baroness des Planches, Japanese Minister Takahira throughout the reception was the center of an interested group. He received the friendly expressions of those present with evident pleasure.

TO GO SOUTH.

Washington, June 1.—President Roosevelt will start on a trip through the south October 17. The announcement was made at the white house to day. Coupled with it was the statement that an extraordinary session of congress which it is the present intention of the president to call, will not begin until after the November elections.

CAN NOT REFORM.

Tangier, June 1.—The sultan has definitely informed the French minister he is unable to accept the French proposals for reform of the administration of Morocco.

STRUCK AN OIL WAGON.

Dayton, Ohio, June 1.—The Pennsylvania passenger train from St. Louis struck an oil wagon at Stillwater junction early to day. As the oil tank burst the engine threw it into the oil. Engineer Edward Gumby and fireman Charles Payon of Columbus were burned to death. The driver of the wagon escaped uninjured. The train was not damaged.

ALL SONS MAY JOIN.

Milwaukee, June 1.—The loyal legion of the United States to day adopted an amendment to the constitution making all son "companions, eligable to membership in the order," instead of the eldest son, as heretofore.

MAY BE AN OUTBURST

TEMPER OF THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE

The Great Naval Disaster Now Known to All and Intense Feeling Excited—A Paris Peace Story Published.

St Petersburg, June 1.—The immediate realization of imperial reforms seem the only thing which save the government from the wrath of the populace. The truth is now known to the humblest people in the capital and will soon spread throughout the empire. Mutterings of the people are certain to have an ominous effect on the army at the front. It is feared revolutionists and socialists are planning to take advantage of the government's discomfiture by inciting demonstrations and renewal of the strikes. As a precautionary measure more guard regiments have been brought to St. Petersburg. Liberals also consider the government is at last in a corner and the time has come to strike.

Their press no longer asks, it threatens. Even the Novo Vremyma warns the government it cannot temporize and act the coward, but must come out openly, immediately convene the people and let them decide the future.

Newspapers report that Vice Admiral Birileff, who started for Vladivostok May 25, to take command of the Baltic station, is returning to St. Petersburg.

The extraordinary council at Tsarskoe Selo yesterday reached no conclusion on the subject of peace, but denite reports say the emperor agreed to meet the internal situation by an immediate proclamation providing for convocation of the national assembly.

An evening paper to day printed a sensational story from Paris, the correspondent saying he was in a position to state that after the passage of many telegrams last night between the French foreign office and French embassy here, M. Bompard, the French ambassador, is returning hastily to St. Petersburg from Paris to request Russia to arrange for peace negotiations. France having agreed if Japans terms are too onerous to undertake to ask the concert of all powers to compel both powers to mediate. At both the foreign office and French embassy the story is denied, but ther is reason to believe Bompard is bringing a direct message from Freign Minister DelCasse urging Russia to make peace.

Paris, June 2.—Strong influences are berted between Paris and St. Petersburg toward securing peace, hopes of which for the first time assumed definite form within the last few days. Exchanges which have already occurred give encouragement of a pacific soution, but these are not yet exploit. Although officials observe silence with regard to their pans, it is gathered that the chief reliance is in securing the united influence of Great Britain, France and the United States in bringing about some basis of accord between the belligerents.

RUMOR DENIED.

Paris, June 2.—A rumor from St. Petersburg of the death of the emperor is produced in all the newspapers this morning. The rumor was strongly denied at the Rusian embassy.

A NEW PLAN

For a National Home Missionary Society Favored by the Congregationalists.

Springfield, Mass., June 1.—The Congregational Home Missionary society adopted the report presented by Rev. Charles S. Mills, of St. Louis, which provides for a new national society, with consistent, co-operative and missionary allies in the several states. There will be but one society for the whole country, with one secretary and various assistant secretaries and a new secretary in Chicago. The committee and its supporters claim the new plan is thoroughly democratic and according to the principles of the denomination. The following officers were elected:

President—Rev. H. C. King, Ohio.

Vice presidents—President James B. Angell, Michigan; Rev. W. A. Bartlett, Illinois; President Dan F. Bradley, Iowa; Rev. L. H. Bullock, Minnesota.

Recording secretary—Rev. Henry L. Schaumler, of Connecticut.

Rev. Sidney Strong, of Illinois, and W. H. Strong of Michigan, are members of the committee on nominations.

Rev. H. P. DeForest, of Michigan, is head of the committee on report of the executive committee.

ASCENSION DAY

The Pope Celebrates Mass in St. Peter's with the Usual Pomp.

Rome, June 1.—This being Ascension day and a day set apart for the inauguration of the Eucharistic congress, the pope with the usual pomp celebrated mass in St. Peter's, 50,000 being present. The papal procession included Right Rev. John Janssen, bishop of Belleville, Ill.; Right Rev. Richard Scannell, bishop of Omaha, Neb.; Right Rev. Philip J. aGrrison, bishop of Sioux City, Iowa. Later the pontiff sent his congratulations to President Loubet and King Alfonso on their escape.

NEW GUNBOAT.

Washington, June 1.—Announcement was made at the navy department to day that the gunboat Dubuque will be placed in commission at the New York navy yard Saturday. The Dubuque has just been completed and the department was advised that she would be delivered at the New York yard by her builedar to day preliminary to her final acceptance.

ARBITRATION CONFERENCE.

Lake Mohon, N. Y., June 1.—Congressman Littlefield of Maine, Henry B. F. MacFarland, president of the board of commissioners of the District of Columbia, and Oscar S. Straus, member of the permanent Hague court, were the principal speakers to day before the international arbitration conference. The session to night was given over entirely to hearing from delegates of business organizations of the country, thirty-one of which are officially represented here. A report on "What business men are doing for international arbitration" was presented by Charles Richardson, of Philadelphia, chairman of the special committee of the conference on that subject.

WILL KEEP THE WORKS

Philadelphia Council Decides Not to Sell its Gas Plant—Tax Rate Fixed.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 1.—Without a dissenting vote both branches of the city council to day withdrew the ordinance authorizing the extension of the city gas works lease to the United Gas Improvement company for seventy-five years, for which privilege the company was to pay the city $25,000,000. The select council also unanimously confirmed the appointment of Sheldon Potter as director of public safety and A. Lincoln Acker as director of public works.

Another important move was made in the common council, when a resolution was presented fixing the tax rate for next year the same as at present. Republican organization leaders who advocated the gas lease extension claimed the money was needed immediately to meet expenses, and asserted that if the ordinance was defeated it would be necessary to increase the tax rate. Mayor Weaver, on the other hand, contended the existing rate was sufficient.

NEW ROAD.

Springfield, June 1.—Secretary of State Rose to day incorporated the Milwaukee, Peoria & St. Louis railway, to construct a railroad from Peoria to Rockford.

TELLS OF THE SEA FIGHT

A JAPANESE OFFICER'S ACCOUNT OF IT.

Covering the Time, Approach, and Engagement of the Ships—Russians in Circle and Could Not Escape.

STORY OF BATTLE.

Tokio, June 1—A Japanese officer has returned from Sasebo and gives the following account of the sea fight:

"At 5:30 Saturday morning a wireless message reading: 'The enemy's squadron is in sight,' reached the naval base. This message was transmitted to all our ships by the flagship, with instructions to get ready for action. Our squadron left their rendezvous and headed for the eastern channel off Tsushima. Our men seemed to be filled with a new inspiration and were eager for the long delayed fight to begin. When Tsushima was sighted to the southwest the sea was rough and the torpedo boats were forced to run for the shelter of the island. Our third fighting squadron, with the Takasihho in port, reconnoitered the Russian course and at 11:30 informed the main squadron by wireless telegraph that the Russian ships were passing into the east channel, whereupon our main squadron, changing its course to the southward, came in sight of Okinshima at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The third division arrived later and joined the main squadron. The first and second divisions, accompanied by a destroyer flotilla, changed to a westerly course, while the third division and a fourth destroyer flotilla headed slightly eastward. During the maneuver the Russian flagship appeared to the southward at 1:45. The Russians steamed up in double column. The fleet was numerous, but no living being was to be seen. The Russian ships seemed to be in good order. Our ships hoisted the flag of action, the Mikasa signalling: 'The destiny of our empire depends upon this action. You are all expected to do your utmost.'

"Our men seemed to silently weigh the significance of this signal. Our first and second divisions turned to the Russian starboard, while the third division kept in close touch with the preceding two divisions.

"With the Japanese ships proceeding in this order it was 2:13 when the Russians opened fire. The first two shots fell short of our line, and it was some minutes later before we commenced firing. Then the battle was on with firing from both sides. Our destroyers kept on the port side of the main squadron and in this formation we pressed the Russians against the coast of Kiushiu and they were obliged to change their course to the east. We also maneuvered our ships so as to have their bows paralelled to the north side of the Russian line. So the Mikasa of our first division, which had been leading, changed to the rear of the line, while the Kasuga headed the line. The engagement now became very fierce. The Boodino was seen to be on fire. A little later the Russians headed west and we changed our course accordingly. Five ships of our second division concentrated their fire on the Borodino. Our first division now began firing vigorously, proceeding parallel with the Russian line, and as we began to press against the head of the Russian line our third division veered to the Russian rear, thus enveloping their ships. The engagement proceeded hotly. Our second division followed a course parallel with the northern side of the Russians, and this movement completed the envelopment. The Russian ships were seen trying to break through our destroyer flotilla, which intercepted their new course. This state of envelopment continued until the following day, with the ships at varying distances. Thus enclosed on all sides the Russians were helpless and noworlds to escape the circle.

"Previous instructions had been given the destroyers and torpedo boats to attack the Russian ships. Following these instructions, the fifth destroyer flotilla advanced against a Russian ship, upon the second division had been concentrating its fire, signalling 'we are going to have the last thrust at them.' The Russian ship continued to fight and seeing the approaching torpedo boats directed its fire on them. Undaunted our destroyers pressed forward, the Chitose meantime continuing its fire. The torpedo flotilla arrived with 200 metres of the Russian ship and the Shiranus fired the first shot. Two other torpedo boats fired one shot each. The Shiranus received two shells, but the other boats were not damaged. The Russian ship was completely wrecked.

"Sundown saw the battle raging furiously. Our shells were evidently telling on the Russians, who showed signs of confusion. Our fifth torpedo flotilla, after destroying the Borodino, followed in the wake of our second division, signal reading: 'Something like the Russian submarines have been sighted. Attack them.' The flotilla followed and located the object, which proved to be a sinking ship with its overturned bottom showing. Thirty survivors clung to the wreck, crying for assistance. The firing ceased with approach of darkness.

"According to previous orders given for a torpedo attack after dark, all the destroyers flotillas were divided into two squadrons and proceeded to attack the Russians during the whole night. The Russians frustrated the first and second attacks with search lights. The third attempt was carefully made and the Yugiri sank a ship of the Borodino type and also hit others. During the night the Russians continued to move and we preserved our enveloping movement some distance from the Russian position. The Russian ships headed northwest after daybreak, hoping to reach Vladivostok. Our officers and men were determined that not a ship should escape and resolved not to relax their efforts until they succeeded in either sinking or capturing every Russian ship. Our ships always kept in advance of the Russians.

"The battle was resumed at 8 o'clock Sunday morning twelve miles east of Chinyupyon bay and lasted all day. Here the Russians suffered their heaviest losses. They seemed unprepared to repel night attacks. During our first night attack the Russians showed nine search lights and frustrated the attacks, but clearly gave us the location of the fleet, which brought success later."

Tokio, June 1.—A telegram from Sasebo says Rojestvensky stated in an interview that he hoped to clear Tsu isl and in the fog, but a sudden southwestern gale cleared the fog and revealed the presence of his fleet.

KING ALFONSO

Continues to Enjoy Festivities in his Honor at Paris—Arrests Made.

Paris, June 1.—Accompanied by President Loubet, King Alfonso to day continued to enjoy the festivities which France had prepared in his honor, apparently undismayed by the anarchistic attempt on his life last night. Everywhere he was the recipient of tremendous ovations.

Among the persons under arrest the main suspicion attaches to a young laboratory attendant named Arsena Arnould, who is held on the evidence of a woman who alleged she noticed him lighting a supposed fuse. It developed to day that shortly after the king passed last night another bomb was found in the Rue de Rivoli near the spot where the explosion occurred. The bomb contained dangerous explosives. The plot is said to have been planned at a hotel near the scene of the explosion.

The investigation into the bomb outrage continues. Magistrates have searched for incriminating documents at the residence of the Spanish anarchist, Mateo, who was arrested. Another anarchist named Valo, when questioned, declared he had been in Paris for a month with several companions preparing for an attempt on King Alfonso's life.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Hints For the Elimination of the Mosquito Pest.

As all authorities are now agreed that the mosquito is the transmitter of both malaria and yellow fever, it behooves the housewife to see that her own premises are above reproach. As they are known to breed in standing water, none should be allowed to remain in tubs, flowerpots, barrels or vases longer than forty-eight hours without changing. All barrels, cisterns or other receptacles for rain water should be tightly screened with netting so that no mosquito can enter. Chicken coops, kennels, watering troughs for stock should be changed daily. Back yards, with their accumulation of cans, tins, bottles and other rubbish, should be cleaned up and the trash buried. Tank vegetation around wells should be destroyed, as it furnishes hiding places for the adult mosquito, and no waste water should be thrown out for surface drainage. Where there is standing water that cannot be screened or drained treat with coal oil, one ounce of oil sufficing to cover fifteen square feet of surface. An ordinary glassful answers for a large cistern, as a very slight film of oil on the surface will clog the breathing apparatus of the larvae and cause death, while it in nowise affects the water for ordinary purposes.

ACCUSED OF DRIBERY

OUTCOME OF THE CHICAGO STRIKE

President Shea Tells the Jury an Official of the Employers' Teamsters' Association Sought to Bring About a Strike.

Chicago, June 1.—A committee consisting of three members of the department store delivery drivers' unions appointed by the teamsters' joint council to day opened negotiations with individual members of the Employers' association in an effort to settle the strike.

President Shea and Albert Young, former president of the Teamsters' union, announced to day they were ready to go before the grand jury and explain how $20,000 was paid into the treasury of the organization by certain agents of the Employers' association. Shea reiterated his statement, made to the grand jury, that two years ago he was offered $20,000 by an official of the association for the teaming interests to call a strike against the mail order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

It was stated to day by President Shea that the strike would end if the employers other than railway express companies would take back their men without requiring them to collect packages for the express companies. The lumber men say they are doing about 70 per cent of their ordinary business. There is no interference with deliveries anywhere in the city and no rioting.

AND STRIKE.

Charges of bribery against an official of the Employers' Teaming company were made to day to the grand jury by President Shea of the Teamsters' union, and Albert Young, former president of the same organization.

Young and Shea claim that they were offered $10,000 two years ago to bring about a strike of teamsters employed by Sears, Roebuck & Co., a rival concern of Montgomery Ward & Co. They said that the refused the money and the strike was never called. After leaving the jury room Young made statements to newspaper reporters, going more into detail than those he had made before the jury. He was again subpoenaed and brought before the jury a second time, but declined to tell where the meeting had taken place or to name the men present when the $10,000 was said to have been offered. Young declined to give any good reasons for refusing the information when taken before Judge Barnes, who was asked for a ruling on the matter. The court ordered him to answer the jury's questions.

Young and the members of the grand jury returned to the jury room and he was questioned for an hour. He gave the names of the men offering the money but refused after leaving the jury room to discuss what had taken place.

Indications to night are the Teamowners association, which has managed to keep out of the troubles so far, will soon become involved in the strike as they have about decided to make deliveries to strike bound houses. Should the teamowners take this step, against the wishes of the teamsters, it will mean a spread of the strike.

Kansas City, June 1.—Nearly 1,000 union hod carriers struck to day to enforce the demand for an increase in wages. Nearly all strikers are negroes. Building operations are practically tied up.

CONGRESS OF RELIGION.

Chicago, June 1.—Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich., was the principal speaker at to day's session of the Congress of Religions. In her address on "Institutional Work as a Means of Church Salvation," she said: "We have $700,000,000 invested in churches in this country where about 33,000,000 persons receive benefit of a certain kind on one hour or one day out of seven days of the week. This is a tremendous power for good running to waste. This power must be utilized. Churches should be open seven days in the week instead of one, to administer to the social, educational and spiritual welfare of all that need help, so that the work which the women's clubs and neighborhood organization are attempting to do may be fully accomplished."

AN EARTHQUAKE.

Vocinje, Montenegro, June 1.—An earthquake caused great damage at Scutari, Albania, where about 500 houses collapsed. Two hundred persons were killed or injured.

REPORT MADE.

New York, June 1.—The details of the recommendations made in the report of the Trask committee, which has been investigating the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society, became known to day although officers and directors of the society still declined officially to discuss it. Many of those recommendations are sweeping in their scope and if eventually adopted will result in a marked change in the conduct of the Equitable. Officers of the society are sharply criticised in the report.

CITY COUNCIL

City Clerk Stewart Prorogued Session After 29 Ballots Had Been Taken on Mayor Pro-tem—Rump Council Organized

Thursday evening was the regular meeting night of the city council. Twelve aldermen met and were in session one hour and a half and failed to elect a mayor pro tem to preside in the absence of Mayor John R. Davis, who is out of the city. City Clerk Stewart, who conducted the calling of the roll for temporary mayor, at the end of the twenty-ninth roll refused to call another roll and adjourned the council of his own volition, having given notice after the twenty-eighth roll call that he would take such action in the event of the failure of an election on the twenty-ninth ballot.

The candidates for Mayor pro tem were Alds. Ticknor and Babb, Republicans, and Ald. Johnson, Democrat.

Nine aldermen refused to acquiese in the adjournment and after the clerk had put away the records and left the building, followed by three Republican aldermen, Messrs. Cobb, Hildreth and Ticknor, the remaining aldermen elected Ald. Capps secretary pro tem and with his assistance the roll was called, a quorum declared to be present and Ald. Johnson was unanimously elected mayor pro tem.

After considerable discussion as to the manner of transacting business without the records the mayor pro tem and his colleagues failed to solve the problem and an adjournment was taken.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

The city council met in regular session Thursday evening with all members present. Mayor John R. Davis absent.

In the absence of the mayor City Clerk S. B. Stwerat called the meeting to order. Nominations for mayor protem were declared in order and Ald. Goveia nominated Ald. Babb. Ald. McGinnis named Ald. Johnson. Ald. Hildreth named Ald. Ticknor.

The roll call followoed and Ald. Goveia moved a recess of five minutes after the fourth ballot and Ald. Babb seconded. Motion lost.

Ald. Higgins, seconded by Ald. Babb, moved recess of five minutes after the eleventh ballot and the same carried.

At the end of the sixteenth ballot Ald. Kendrick moved nomination of Ald. Johnson be made unanimous.

Ald. Goveia called for roll call. Same was lost; 5 for for 7 against.

Ald. Ticknor, seconded by Ald. Cobb, moved to adjourn. Same lost; 10 to 2.

Ald. Babb moved nomination of Ald. Ticknor be made unanimous. Same lost; 4 to 8.

Ald. Goveia moved five minute recess after the eighteenth ballot. Carried.

City Clerk Stewart at the end of the twentieth ballot declared the meeting adjourned.

Ald. Goveia objected to the action of the city clerk and moved the roll call proceed.

The clerk refused to put the motion and Ald. Goveia after considerable discussion put the motion and the same carried, and the clerk was ordered to call the roll and complied.

At the end of the twenty-second ballot Ald. Johnson moved a recess of five minutes. Carried.

Ald. Capps, seconded by Ald. Kennedy, moved adjournment after the twenty-seventh roll call. Same was lost; 4 to 8.

After the twenty-eighth ballot the clerk stated, after referring to the provision under the law and under Roberts' rules of order in such cases as the council found itself in, that he would call one more roll and if a mayor pro tem was not chosen he would adjourn the meeting of his own volition.

The twenty-eighth ballot showed no election and the clerk declared the meeting adjourned, put up the records and went home followed by all of the Republican members of the council except Ald. Goveia, Babb and Hairgrove.

RUMP COUNCIL CALLED.

Alderman Capps went out with the three Republican aldermen and clerk, but lingered outside the railing. The three Republican aldermen, Messrs. Hairgrove, Goveia and Babb, meanwhile went into an open caucus with the Democratic aldermen, Higgins, Kendrick, Kennedy and Johnson. Alderman Hairgrove was placed in nomination for secretary pro tem, but refused to act.

Ald. Capps watched the proceedings from outside of the railing for a few moments and then went inside and took his seat.

Ald. Kendrick nominated Ald. Capps for secretary pro tem and the latter accepted.

As secretary, Ald. Capps called the roll and declared a quorum present.

Ald. Kendrick nominated Ald. Johnson for mayor pro tem and on roll call the latter was elected unanimously.

Ald. Johnson took the chair and thanked the councilmen was the honor conferred and expressed regret at the steps that had been necessary to secure a presiding officer and hoped the proceedings would be characterized with conservatism.

Ald. Kendrich moved that the two members of the police committee present, order the chief of police to make a demand upon the city clerk to produce the records so that the rump council could transact business.

The mayor pro tem did some telephoning and a general discussion as to the proper course of action followed.

The conservatism of the mayor pro tem finally prevailed and his suggestion that an adjournment be taken was adopted, Ald. Kendrick making a motion to that effect.

The roll call on adjournment resulted 6 for, 3 against, Alds. Goveia, Hairgrove and Kennedy voting in the negative.

REV. JOHN SARGENT.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR HYOMEI

Far Easier to Cure Catarrh Now Than at Any Other Season.

Now is the time to use Hyomei, when the early summer days make it so easy to cure catarrhal troubles. The Hyomei treatment breathed for a few minutes three or four times a day in May or June, will do good twice as quickly as it did in January, and nearly everyone knows that used faithfully then, it completely rids the system of catarrh.

Hyomei is a purely vegetable preparation whose active curative properties are given off when it is breathed by the aid of the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. It destroys all germ life in the air passages, purifies the blood by supplying additional ozone, and its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches every corner of the respiratory tract as no medicine taken through the stomach can possibly do.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but one dollar and consists of a neat inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket and will last a lifetime, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, if desired, for 50c.

At this season of the year when catarrhal troubles can be so quickly and readily cured, the merits of the Hyomei treatment should be carefully investigated by everyone and a complete outfit should be in every home. Hatch gives his personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit they sell to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.

CRUEL BOYS.

Thursday afternoon three small lads were detected in the act of trying to kill a robin with sling shots and an air gun, but fortunately were stopped before the mischief was done. Their names are known, but out of regard for their parents they will not be published. It is certainly to be hoped that the parents of these boys do not know that their sons would wantonly try to take the life of an innocent robin and they should know also that there is a strict law against such deeds and any one found guilty will not be in a very pleasant condition. How any person can deliberately make up his mind to shoot such a sweet bird as a robin it is hard to imagine. Certainly lessons in kindness to dumb creatures have been wanting or have not been heeded.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Why a New York Schoolboy's Eye Was Unserviceable.

Mr. Maxwell, superintendent of schools in New York city, recently told this story on himself:

While visiting a school in Brooklyn he noticed that one of the boys had something the matter with one eye. He asked the boy to read first with one eye closed, then the other. This test brought out the fact that the boy was blind in one eye.

THE BOY WAS ASKED TO READ.

Mr. Maxwell told the boy to go right home and not to come to school until he had been to see an oculist.

Early next morning the boy was back in his place.

"Have you been to an oculist?" asked his teacher.

"No, ma'am," was the response.

"But didn't the gentleman who was here yesterday tell you not to come back until you had found out about your eye?"

"Me mudder says there's nothin' the matter with me eye."

"But you can't see with your left eye."

"Please, teacher, me mudder says it's a glass eye."—New York Times.

Baked Squash.

Select a nice firm Hubbard squash, cut into sections and boil for fifteen minutes in salted water. Remove from the kettle, drain and place in a baking pan with a little sugar sprinkled over each and bake until tender. Serve in the rinds.

Milk Soup.

Let two quarts of milk, with a little salt, one teaspoonful of sugar, come to a boil. Mix four tablespoonsful of flour with one cup of milk. Keep stirring constantly. Boil two minutes and serve. If too thick, add a little more milk.

Tangled Hair.

Hair that has become matted during severe sickness may be untangled by moistening it with alcohol and combing the locks out little by little with a very coarse comb.

A Laundry Suggestion.

To prevent clothes from being streaked by the use of bluing in hard water stir the bluing in one-half cupful of milk before adding to the water.

Pure Food Health Drink and Tonic

THIS aptly describes FREMONT UNFERMENTED CONCORD GRAPE JUICE. You might drink a quart of it and not become intoxicated, as it contains not the slightest trace of alcohol or adulteration in any form.

To Those Who Do Not Know

FREMONT GRAPE JUICE is not the thing to drink if you must become intoxicated. Thousands of physicians prescribe it in their practice regularly because they have found the FREMONT brand of Grape Juice to be absolutely the life of the grape and nothing else. Alcoholic juices and beverages are temporary stimulants at best, while with FREMONT GRAPE JUICE the good effects are permanent and lasting.

For Sacramental uses, Fremont Grape Juice is certainly the safest, purest and best that can be procured for this purpose.

TEAM RAN AWAY.

A team belonging to the street sweeper driven by Philip Grant was tied in the rear of the fire department enjoying their noon day meal Thursday when the fire whistle blew, and acted in a manner altogether unbecoming to well bred horses. They broke their halters and in a mad attempt to escape from the terrible din of the whistle demolished a city wheel barrow, a rod of fence and ended by smashing several sections of a large tile. One of the horses was considerably cut up, and was taken to Willerton & Thornborrow's veterinary hospital for treatment.

SMALL BLAZE.

A small blaze originated in Seligman Bros.' bottling works Thursday afternoon from a leaking gasoline pipe which supplies the gasoline engine. The blaze from the pipe was communicated to a can of gasoline on a shelf above, which exploded, igniting the rafters. The blaze was extinguished with the chemical engine. The damage was slight.

SUMMER TRIP UNSURPASSED ON THE CONTINENT.

The Pacific coast via that point over the Denver & Rio Grande system, "The Scenic Line of the World," is the most beautiful in America. No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, tithing office and church institutions; its hot sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightful temperature, sunny climate and its great Salt Lake—deader and denser than the Dead Sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canons and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you can, a bath in salt water a mile above sea level, and in water in which the human body cannot sink. Inquire of your nearest ticket agent for low tourist rates to Salt Lake City, or write for information and copy of "Salt Lake City, the City of the Saints," to S. K. Hooper, Gen. Pass. NO GRAFT IN JAPAN.

Chicago, June 1.—"Graft is a thing entirely unknown in Japan," said David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, in addressing the congress of religions in Abraham Lincoln center, the new home of All Souls congregation. "I venture to say," continued Dr. Jordan, "that in the present war not $100 of Japanese war funds have been stolen. On the other hand, I presume that not one dollar in twenty, if one in a hundred on the side of the Russians, ever reached its proper destination. I heard of only one dishonest Japanese, and he was one whose morals had been contaminated by residence abroad.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

How to Oil the Wagon.

Use of the right kind of oil is important in keeping up the condition of wagon wheels. Lard should not be used, as it soaks into the hub and works out around the tenons, seriously injuring the wheel. Tallow is better and works well for wooden axletrees. Castor oil is one of the most durable lubricators and is the only kind which will last long on a badly worn axle. It is also preferred for all iron hubs. Some of the patent axle greases are good and cheaper than castor oil. Others are not desirable in any way. Many people use too much grease in oiling wagon wheels. A spoonful of castor oil is enough for all four wheels. Any surplus will work out and gum up or be forced into the hub. Before oiling the spindle should be wiped clean and wet with a little turpentine. Then apply a few drops of the oil.

Barley as a Stock Food.

Barley meal and middlings gave slightly better results in feeding experiments with pigs at the Agricultural college in Canada than cornmeal and middlings. Some tests in Colorado with steers place ground corn ahead of ground barley for feeding. Barley may be fed with roots to cows with good results. When fed to horses, as is done in California, the grain should not be ground, but fed whole. Barley is considered especially valuable in the production of bacon hogs. At the North Dakota station barley was not equal to oats in feeding value per pound when fed to horses, but was nearly as good. Mules do not relish it at all. Much of the prejudice which exists in this country against the use of barley as a stock food is unfounded. —American Agriculturist.

Killing Potato Bugs.

A Wisconsin potato grower says in Farm Progress: I have had the best results in killing potato bugs with a mixture of one and a half to two pounds of paris green with 100 pounds of land plaster. After thoroughly mixing the poison with the plaster I take bags made of mosquito netting three or four thicknesses and large enough to hold fifteen pounds and dust the powder upon the potatoes early in the morning while the dew is upon the plants. This is more expensive than spraying with water and paris green, but it is much more effective. I have used both and believe that this method is by far the most economical.

Selecting a Green Manure Crop.

Wherever clover will succeed it is by far the best green fallow plant, writes a Massachusetts farmer in American Agriculturist. A crop of hay may be taken off and yet leave the land more fertile than at first. The stubble and roots contain a large amount of nitrogen, and some mineral matter is brought to the surface by the roots. All green plants, such as clover, rye or other seeds, may be sown and the plants plowed under when coming into head the following spring. The cost of the seed, the climate, the land and the fertility should all be considered in selecting a green manure crop to be plowed under.

It Pays to Tile Drain.

Draining farm lands is a matter that is not getting the attention it deserves. In some parts of the country—in fact, most of it—tile drainage is unknown, while in a few localities a great deal is being done and with very satisfactory results. Where it is possible it will pay to tile drain. An experienced man figures the worth at fully the value of the land, thus doubling its worth. This is a subject that a little study of would give some surprising facts to those not familiar with it.—Cor. Farm Progress.

INTERESTING TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS.

Daniel Bantz, of Otterville, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

MATRIMONIAL

BECK-ANHALT.

Thursday evening at the pleasant home of Mrs. Mary Anhalt, 920 Hardin avenue, the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Anhalt and Edward W. Beck took place. The affair was simple and at the same time most beautiful and impressive. The ceremony was preceded by music supplied in a highly artistic manner by Miss Nettie McDougall, whose fame is so well known and established. The young lady first played the wedding march from Lohengrin; then accompanied Miss Georgia Brockmann, who sang in a lovely and entertaining manner two songs, "Oh, Promise Me," by DeKoven, and "Because I Love You," by Hawley. As the last strains of the song died away the familiar notes of the Mendelssohn wedding march rang out and the twain to be made one entered the parlor, preceded by Rev. Edward Beck, father of the groom to be, and standing under an arch of green heard and said the words of the beautiful ceremony. At the close of the words uttered by the man of God the groom placed a ring on the finger of the bride and then the blessing of heaven was invoked upon them. Of course the congratulations of many relatives and friends were most cordial and were duly appreciated by the young people.

The bride was tastefully arrayed in a costume of white silk shirred and tucked and trimmed with applique and carried bride's roses and was the recipient of many compliments upon her attractive appearance.

Delicious refreshments were served and greatly enjoyed by the guests who partook of them with zest.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anhalt and is a highly estimable young woman. She has been employed many years as a teacher in the public schools where she has given excellent satisfaction and it is with sincere regret that the board of education part with her and the loss of the schools is the gain of the enterprising groom. Mr. Beck is a valued member of the force in the popular bank of Dunlap, Russel & Co., where he has made many friends by his gentlemanly demeanor and fine abilities, coupled with an excellent name. He is a son of Rev. Edward Beck, so long the capable and devoted pastor of the Lutheran church in this city. He is a young man of sterling worth, much esteemed by his employers and popular among all who know him. He is steady and industrious and will doubtless make his mark in the world should no unfortunate illness or other trouble overtake him.

A good number of useful and handsome presents testified to the esteem in which the young people are held among those who know them. They will at once begin life at the residence of the bride's mother and in company with many others the Journal tenders them its cordial good wishes for success and happiness in life.

BODEN-CRUM.

Rev. John Boden and Miss Mabel B. Crum were united in marriage Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at "The Maples," the residence of the bride's father near Virginia.

The bride came down the winding staircase and entered the front parlor from the hall, where she was met by the groom, who entered by way of the rear parlor. Rev. C. M. Brown of this city performed the ceremony, the beautiful ring service being used, with Willie Boden of Chicago, a nephew of the groom, as ring bearer. James McHenry of Virginia and Miss Hazel Knight of Beardstown were ions before and during the ceremony, mannated as flower girl.

A quartet sang appropriate selections before and after the ceremony. The elegant Crum residence was most beautifully and artistically decorated and an elaborate wedding supper was served immediately after the vows were spoken.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Crum, residing southwest of Virginia, and is a charming and accomplished young lady.

The groom is the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Petersburg and is the son of John Boden of Chicago. He graduated from the McCormick Theological seminary of Chicago several months ago and is a young man of sterling worth.

Mr. and Mrs Boden are well known here and the best wishes of a host of friends will follow them. They were accompanied to Jacksonville by a party of their friends and took the evening train for Chicago where they wil visit for two weeks, after which they will be at home to their friends at the parsonage in Petersburg.

ANDERSON-THOMPSON.

John A. Anderson and Miss Sadie L. Thompson were married by Rev. A. B. Morey at his residence on West State street Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The were attended by John Peterson and Miss Dovie Wanamaker.

The bride is a charming young lady and her bright and winning ways have made her many friends who wish her happiness. The groom is well known and highly respected and the best wishes of a host of friends are his. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home to their friends after June 2, at 512 South East street.

TRUNK LINE THROUGH CITY

BURLINGTON ROAD WILL MAKE MANY CHANGES

Local Branch to Become St. Louis Division—Extension From Centralia to Ohio River and on to Gulf Part of Present Plan.

Jacksonville on a trunk line of the Burlington running from Lake Superior to the gulf is a possibility of the next few years if the conclusions of those who keep themselves in touch with railroad matters are to be trusted. The trend of events which lead to this conclusion are as follows:

The Burlington railroad has met competition in the northwest with the Illinois Central and now proposes to parrallel the rival line to the gulf. Millions have been set asides and will be set aside for this purpose. The first steps have already been taken in the commencement of work upon the extension of the J. & St. L. branch to Herrin, 60 miles south of Centralia. Next year the line is to be extended on to the Ohio river, and it is expected that within five years the gulf will be reached.

The improvements of a more local character are already begun also. In accordance with the general order issued recently from the Burlington general offices reducing all grades to a maximum of five per cent, the hills south of this city are being reduced, and work nearer town will commence soon. The Doane hill north of the city will next be attacked, as this exceeds the standard, and a line will be cut from Joy Prairie to Arnezville to cut out the hill. North of Beardstown the road will go direct to Vermont, cutting away from Astoria, Bader and Browning, and leaving them far from the line. The yards at Beardstown are to be enlarged to double their present size, which will necessitate the filling in of a swamp. All these improvements are among the events of the near future, and others which have doubtless been planned will come to light in time.

It is confidently expected that within a few years the J. & St. L. branch of the Burlington will be on the St. Louis division. The great improvements are being made on the Jacksonville branch, the extension to the south is being made on this branch, and in view of the fact that there are no cities of any consequence between Beardstown and St. Louis on the present St. Louis division, it is only reasonable to suppose that this division will either be abandoned, or else will be run as merely a local branch, and we may expect to see St. Louis-Chicago passengers running on Burlington tracks through this city in the course of a very few years. Just how the entrance into St. Louis will be made it not yet known.

The immediate object of the extension of the Burlington lines is said to be to transport ore from the Lake Superior region to St. Louis, and carry back coal from the fields of southern Illinois. It is for this heavy traffic that the road is being prepared.

The Burlington is controlled by the Hill interests, and it is the policy of J. J. Hill to haul as much freight as possible, and to haul as few passengers as possible. The Burlington now covers the great northwest, where the Illinois Central has entered into competition with them. To meet this competition the sweeping plans mentioned have been made, and it is believed that they wil eventually be consummated.

As to the points effecting this city they are said to indicate plainly that far from its being the intention of the Burlington to sidetrack Jacksonville that this city is to be made one of the principal points between Chicago and St. Louis, and that the track on this line will be put in first class condition at once, and that it will eventually be on the trunk line from the lake to the gulf.

ON THE LINKS

Spring Championship Tournament Began Thursday—Ladies Handicap Won by Miss Gladys Osborne.

The qualifying rounds of the men's spring championship began yesterday and will be concluded to day. The scores for the first eighteen holes were as follows:

Marcy Osborne	87
W. L. Ledford	93
Dr. George Dinsmore	97
Green Luttrell	97
Charles Sanders	100
J. H. Danskin	100
Alexander Walker	107
Frank Huffaker, Jr.	110
Lloyd B. Smith, Sr.	112
F. S. Hayden	119

The above will play the remaining 18 holes to day.

There were several scores which were not handed in; there were also a few persons who were able to play only one round yesterday and will play the remainder to day.

As a rule the scores made yesterday were not good, which was partly due to the poor condition of the putting greens. The greens are badly in need of rolling.

The pairings for match play will be announced to morrow morning and all the matches must be played not later than Monday afternoon.

WON HANDICAP CUP.

The ladies' handicap cup was won Thursday afternoon by Miss Gladys Osborne. This cup will be played for once each month during the season and will then become the property of the lady winning same the greater number of times.

The scores and handicap were as follows:

	Strokes.	H'p.	Net.
Miss Gladys Osborne	131	24	107
Mrs. J. H. Danskin	138	26	112
Miss Grace Carter	142	26	116
Miss Elizabeth Stryker	119	0	119
Mrs. J. Thompson Sharpe	162	28	134
Miss Louise Huffaker	168	16	152

The above was an 18-hole event and the best gross score was made by Miss Stryker.

Miss Huffaker and Mrs. Sharpe did not play as well as they usually do, being unfortunate in having to contend with the brook and long grass. Next week the ladies will select two teams and play match play.

ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS

FINE CONCERT PROGRAM AT STATE STREET CHURCH

Given Under Direction of W. B. Olds—New Vocal and Instrumental Organization Scored Splendid Success—Excellent Soloists—Audience Was Delighted.

The concert given at State Street church Thursday evening by the Jacksonville Choral club and the Jacksonville Symphony orchestra, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Peickert Schiller, soprano, and Mr. Chris Anderson, baritone, was a distinct triumph. The audience was large and exceedingly appreciative of the work of the musicians, and each number was accorded the heartiest applause.

The program opened with an orchestral number—the overture to the "Magic Flute," Mozart's greatest opera. The overture begins with a slow sustained chord, sounded by the entire orchestra. The chord is repeated in its different inversions, and from out of this harmony proceeds the motive upon the stringed instruments—a motive that reflects the dignity and grandeur that constitutes the life of the entire work. From the slow and stately beginning, a happy and lively thought is developed, the theme is repeated by the bass instruments, and the whole proceeds into a grand fugue gathering volume until it brings the overture to a glorious close. The rendition of this grand composition by the orchestra was superb.

The second number, the Jewel Song, a well known aria from the immortal "Faust" of Gounod, was sung in a splendid manner by Miss Schiller. Though the selection is not well calculated to show the young artist at her best, she fully sustained the excellent impression made by her first appearance here last winter, and she was awarded a splendid ovation.

The four movements of Symphony No. 11, by Joseph Haydn, the "father of the new symphony," was the next orchestral number. The composition is an exceedingly complicated one, and comprises many varieties of musical expression. The beautiful second movement was given an especially fine interpretation, while the third movement, a very graceful and fascinating score, was also excellently given.

The first choral number was the "Inflammatus" from Stabat Mater (Rossini), Miss Schiller singing the solo parts. Here again she displayed her wonderful talent, giving to her work a sincerity and earnestness which made the interpretation a revelation to the audience. The chorus also sang with fine effect, the voices blending in a magnificent harmony.

Mr. Anderson appeared for the first time in this city in the Prologue from "I Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo), an exceedingly interesting number, which he sang with grand effect. The young man is a rising teacher of Chicago, and if his singing last evening is an index to his future, it will certainly be a brilliant one. He is possessed of a large, beautiful baritone voice, which is entirely free from any harsh or disagreeable qualities, and he uses it in a manner that indicates temperament and excellent understanding of the requirements of musical expression. He was given a genuine ovation, to which he generously responded with an encore.

Miss Schiller again appeared this time in a "Summer Cycle" by Ronald, one of the well known composers of the present day. The music of these songs is exceedingly pretty, and is well adapted to display the most pleasing qualities of Miss Schiller's voice. The "Springtime" (Stern), was given in a beautiful manner. It was perhaps the most "popular" number on the program, a pretty waltz song, full of trills and runs and ending in a high D, excellently adapted to the performer's art. She was given a hearty encore, to which she graciously responded.

The final number, the "Fair Ellen" by Bruch, a Scotch production, with music built around the theme "The Campbells are Coming," was given a magnificent interpretation by the choral club and orchestra, assisted by Miss Schiller and Mr. Anderson. The chorus appeared at its best in this work, the voices swelling to a volume which for magnificence and grandeur is seldom equaled in an organization of similar size and character. The singing of Miss Schiller and Mr. Anderson was also splendid. The music is especially well adapted to Mr. Anderson's voice, and he entered into the production with an enthusiasm and energy which produced a wonderfully intelligent effect. Miss Schiller found occasion in her parts and with the chorus to give full play to the wonderful power and influence of her beautiful voice. As the final note of the music was sounded, the audience burst into a perfect storm of spontaneous applause.

The success of the concert was a decided compliment to Mr. Olds, the director of the chorus, and to Mr. Haberkorn, who drilled and directed the orchestra. The chorus is especially strong for its size, and is a splendid testimonial to the ability of Mr. Olds an an organizer of unusual ability, while the orchestra is in the same measure a fine compliment to Mr. Haberkorn.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Thursday was the 74th anniversary of the birth of M. C. Duling, of Rural Route No. 1, Ashland, and he properly celebrated the occasion with an ingathering of friends and relatives. Mr. Duling has lived for 50 years in his present residence and is one of the substantial farmers of that part of the county. At noon a bounteous dinner was served, after which a delightful time was enjoyed socially. Mr. Duling offered to run a foot race with Rev. R. A. Hartrick, who was among the guests but the latter, being a Methodist minister, had indulged in the good things offered at dinner so freely that he was compelled to decline. The guests at this happy occasion were as follows: Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Hartrick and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crum, Mr. and Mrs. George Zirkle and son John, Mrs. Minerva Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Alaric Duling and family, all of the vicinity of Ashland.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Excellent and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finely cut contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, no matter how caused, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it feasts on the vitality. This is the microbe that grows up in the form we are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

RIVER POSTMAN.

It is probable that London has the distinction of being the only port where the ships lying at anchor are privileged to have their letters delivered to them by river postmen, it being customary at other ports for sailors to apply personally for their letters unless the ship is in dock. The Thames is divided into two postal districts, each under the control of a river postman, who delivers letters and parcels every morning in a craft which resembles a fisher boat more than anything else. Of these districts the first extends from the custom house to Limehouse and the second from Limehouse to Blackwall. The river postmen start on their rounds punctually at 8 o'clock every morning, and, needless to say, there is only one delivery a day.—London Mail.

The Oldest Copper Mine.

The Rio Tinto copper mine, in Spain, is the oldest producing mine in the world perhaps and is still immensely profitable. There is evidence that copper obtained from its ore was an article of Phoenician commerce as early as 1100 B. C. The mine has been worked successfully by Phoenicians, Celtiberians, Carthaginians, Romans, Goths, Moors, Spaniards and Englishmen. The ore is a copper bearing pyrite. Relics found in the mine indicate Phoenician working, and it is known that the Romans got out large values. At present it is owned by a London company, which in the years from 1898 to 1902 produced 208,834 tons of copper.

Old Fashioned.

A certain widow who lives in New York state is very desirous of having her congressman use his influence in securing a pension for her.

The member received a letter from this constituent several days ago, again calling attention to the fact that she wants recognition. At the end of the letter there was this indignant paragraph: "I want you to know that my husband died of regular old fashioned consumption, contracted in the service. There is somebody writing to the pension office trying to keep me from getting the pension, who says John died of tuberculosis."—Washington Star.

Chicago's Railways.

Chicago's north and west railway systems were appraised for taxation purposes by experts at $27,000,000 and stocked and bonded by the owners for $117,000,000. This $90,000,000 difference represented the value of municipal franchises given to them—that is, the use of the streets, privileges which the city would now be glad to recover so as to get the advantage of them herself. But, though she practically gave them away, the chance of her getting them back for nothing is as slim as the prospect of her catching up with New York in the matter of population.—New York Tribune.

How the Sun Rotates.

Studies at the Yerkes observatory have determined the varying periods of the solar rotation in zones 5 degrees wide from the equator to latitude 35 degrees. Within 5 degrees of the equator on either side the period of rotation is a trifle more than twenty-four and a half days. The length of the period gradually increases toward the poles, becoming about twenty-five and a quarter days between latitude 15 degrees and latitude 20 degrees and nearly twenty-five and a third days between latitude 30 degrees and latitude 35 degrees.

Booth's Derringer.

The derringer pistol used by John Wilkes Booth in assassinating President Lincoln is in a safe in the office of the judge advocate general of the army in Washington, having been in the custody of the judge advocate general since the trial of the conspirators. This has been brought out by the recent sale in Philadelphia of a pistol with which the crime was said to have been committed. The purchaser wrote on to the war department and learned that he had been victimized.

A Canine Criminal.

A woman was arrested in Paris for shoplifting not long ago, and it was noticed that she carried a bright looking King Charles spaniel on her arm. The police happened to examine the pup rather carefully and were surprised to find that it was trained to help the woman at her trade. The dog was schooled to snatch a piece of lace in its mouth and then hide its head under the woman's arm.

Buying Drinking Water.

A New York paper is responsible for the statement that there is scarcely a family in that city which does not buy spring water for drinking purposes and estimates the value of the total consumption throughout the country of "potable waters other than those supplied by municipalities" at $10,000,000.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Speed and Agility Win in Hen, Chickens and Hawk Game.

As many boys and girls as choose may play in this game at one time. One player is picked out to act as hen. Another of the same size and weight is selected to be the hawk.

The player representing the hen puts a red handkerchief around his head if he can get one, or in the absence of such a thing he trusses his coat up behind with a piece of string to represent the short, perky tail of a hen. The player who represents the hawk covers his head with a black or white handkerchief and swings his arms during the game to represent the hawk's pinions.

All the other players represent chicks, and children of all ages may join. All the chicks get behind the hen, clustering just as chicks do in a barnyard, and all keep their eyes on the hawk.

He must approach the chicks to try to carry off one at a time. The hen must try to head him off, whichever way he may come. The chicks must dodge the hawk in every possible way, but they must never try to run from behind the shelter of the hen.

The hawk naturally tries to "cut out" one of the chicks and chase it away from the hen. Then the hen, still trying to keep all the other chicks behind her, tries to save the fleeing chick by interposing. There is lots of chance here for clever tricks and swift play.

A Knowing Little Bird.

Have you ever thought that the little holes you often see in trees are sap buckets? That is just what they are, and they are as carefully looked after by the pretty bay bodied sap sucker that you have seen winging across the country as are the big sap pails by the sugar maker. This beautiful bird, with a taste for sugar, is said to know good sap weather as well as the experienced sugar maker. On cold and cloudy days you would watch in vain to see him fly around to his tiny buckets. He seems to realize that sunshine and warmth are needed to make the sap run, and if you search for him on such a day you would be almost sure to find him clinging to a tree that he has tapped and having a good drink of the sweet sap. If you should notice that his head is tipped to one side you may know that he has got into that position in order that the sap may run back into the corner of his mouth instead of falling down on his chin.

String the Ring.

The players seat themselves in a circle (close together), a cord or rope is got, on which is placed a ring, the rope being just long enough for the players to reach after the ends have been tied together.

The game is to put one of the players in the center of the circle, and he or she is to discover who has the ring, the players working their hands sideways on the rope and passing the ring along when they get a chance.

It is very confusing if the players happen to be wearing rings, and the faster their hands go the more fun there is.

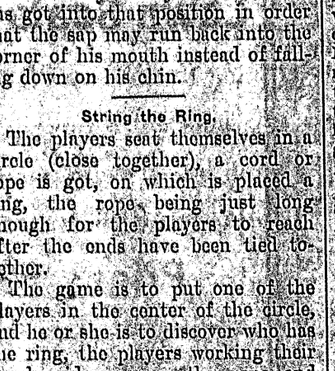
The Golden Woodpecker.

The golden woodpeckers live in a happy married state, mating but once. If the male dies, his mate's grief is lasting, and she lives a widowed bird the rest of her life. So, too, the male woodpecker never seeks another mate after the death of his own. He taps on a tree beside their nest day and night, trying to recall her. Then at length, discouraged and hopeless, he becomes silent and never recovers his gayety.

Jim and Mag.

Little Mag and little Jim
Came to school one day;
Teacher asked them questions,
But no word would they say.

They stood with wiggling fingers
And bashful downcast looks,
One a-holding to the slates
And t'other to the books.



"WE AIN'T BROTHER AND SISTER."

"You're brother and you're sister,
I s'pose," the teacher said.
The boy—he answered nothing;
The girl—she shook her head.

"We ain't broth-er an' sis-ter,"
The girl spoke very low;
"I'm Mag, an' he is Jimmy,
An' we be twins, you know."
—Washington Post.

The SPORTING WORLD

Catcher Abbot.

One of the recruits on the Philadelphia Nationals this season is Catcher Fred Abbot, who is doing good work.

CATCHER FRED ABBOT.

Abbot is a reliable batsman and a splendid thrower. He rarely fails to "nail" the man that attempts to steal second.

Porto Rican Sport.

What the bullfight is to Spain and the prize fight is to the United States so the cockfight is to the island of Porto Rico. For many years it has flourished and become so firmly fixed as the chief diversion of the people that the stringent American laws made at the time of the occupation have only been effective in preventing the larger "desafios" and caused the less pretentious matches to be carried on in secrecy. But cockfights still take place with great frequency, though secrecy demands that the number of spectators be limited to avoid detection. On nearly every Sunday and on holidays natives can be seen carrying sacks of burlap which if stirred up a little will emit a lusty crow.

Before the laws were passed prohibiting the sport great tournaments were held at the "galleras" of different villages, at which crowds of natives from all the surrounding towns and country would be present, bringing with them their favorite fighting roosters and usually plenty of coin to back them up.

Pinch Ball Falkenberg's Invention.

The latest puzzler from the slab is the pinch ball. It has been invented by Fred Falkenberg, the giant twirler who was tried by Pittsburg a couple of seasons ago, now with Montreal. Falkenberg says: "I have developed a new ball that may amount to something. I call it a curve spit ball, although I don't moisten the fingers. It is essentially a thumb ball, as the fingers do not touch the sphere. I throw it overhand and it has a pretty out curve right at the plate. It's not speedy, and the beauty of it is that it is much easier to control than the spit ball. It's a pinch ball, and I will use it when it's a case of two gone and two strikes on the third man. I tried it against the Minneapolis team at Champaign, Ill., and struck out five men in four innings. Among them was Carney, who batted better than .300 last year. I fanned him twice. I could have made it six strike outs, for I had two on a weak batter and then foolishly floated up a nice easy one, which he hit."

McCormick Case Explained.

President Ebbets of the Brooklyns takes exception to the recent story from Washington to the effect that the contract offered to "Dude" McCormick called for a reduction of salary from $1,500 to $700. "McCormick was paid $1,800 last season and not only failed to earn it, but was one of the worst offenders against discipline among the players," said Mr. Ebbets. "We offered him a salary of $1,000 because we believed that he was not worth any more. As to the statement that the present regime in the club is not as liberal as that of the past, I want to say that such a statement is unfair to us. The reduction of $800 in McCormick's salary was made before the change in the management took place. We shall be as liberal as any body else in the game provided other things are equal."

Frank Kramer's Work Abroad.

As was to be expected, Cycling Champion Frank Kramer had no trouble defeating Friol in his first match in Paris. The American champion not only beat the Frenchman in striking fashion, but he supplied a new world's record for half a kilometer. Naturally he was well received by the followers of cycling in France and is booked for plenty of match events during his two months' stay there. A cable report says that in his second race Kramer was beaten by Jenkins, who was a second rater in this country.

Few 300 Per Cent Batters.

It is predicted that there will be less than six 300 hitters in each league this year owing to the spit ball. Inasmuch as each manager already claims to have at least two sluggers of the 300 persuasion under his wing, the prophets had better stick to the weather.

Champion Quick Thinker.

According to Pittsburg critics, First Baseman Clancy is the quickest baseball thinker in the business, a very high compliment.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

An Unexpected "Give Away" of a Guileless Son of Ham.

A present member of congress from Florida relates with keen relish a little story of his one time discomfiture by the unexpected "dead give away" of a guileless son of Ham.

"It was my first case," he tells it, "I was new fledged, full of enthusiasm and cocksure of victory on the plea of not guilty. 'Are you the defendant in this case?' the court suddenly asked my ebony hued client. 'No, suh,' he answered obsequiously, showing a double row of shining teeth and at the same time rolling the whites of his eyes astonishingly—'no, sur. Yondor's de defendant,' pointing to where I sat in self conscious dignity, brief in hand. 'He's de defendant, jedge, an' I'se de nigger what stole de hogs!'"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Probable Explanation.

Englishman—That's a funny way of saying you were introduced to a man—"knocked down to him!" Where do you get that strange expression?

American Friend—Oh, I suppose the fact that the man frequently "sets us up" immediately afterward first suggested calling the preliminary "being knocked down!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Caution.

"What are you going to do with your enormous accumulation of wealth?"

"Hold on to it," answered Mr. Dustin Stax. "My observation is that a rich man isn't criticised much until he begins looking around to find a way to get rid of his money."—Washington Star.

Humoring Him.

"My dear," said the decrepit millionaire to his youthful bride, "I am only too glad to die when I think of the pleasure you will derive from the fortune I shall leave you."

"If it makes you happy, dear," she replied artlessly, "consider yourself dead now if you wish."—Brooklyn Life.

What They Amount To.

He—Like all young men, I have my faults.

She—Yes, but they are so insignificant that no self respecting girl would feel justified in marrying you to reform you.

Her Views.

"She seems to be a woman of narrow views."

"Say, tell her that. It'll please her immensely. She's been trying in every imaginable way during the past year or so to keep from growing any stouter."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Agreed on That.

"Tommy," said his father, "you'll have to behave yourself hereafter. I don't want your mother to be worrying about you all the time."

"Neither do I, pa," replied the youngster. "I wouldn't care if she never worried."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Letting the Draft Out.

One day my little nephew was lying on the bed puffing away at a great rate. I asked him what he was making so much noise about. "Oh," replied Harold, "I'm getting the draft out of my tomick."

It Depends.

"Some one has wisely said that, although lies are often terrible things, nothing can be so malicious as a half truth."

"Except, perhaps, a whole truth."—Philadelphia Press.

Knew It All.

Bosh—Why was Solomon said to be such a wise man?

Josh—I don't know all of the reasons, but I think one was that he never let anything good get by him.—Detroit Free Press.

Baseballitis.

Employer—So you think your grandmother will die soon. Is her disease catchin'?

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

Miss Margret Merkley

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhœa, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Are You Interested in the South?
DO YOU CARE TO KNOW OF THE MARVELLOUS DEVELOPMENT NOW GOING ON IN

The Great Central South

OF INNUMERABLE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG MEN OR OLD ONES TO GROW RICH?

Do you want to know about Old Kentucky farming lands, rich, well located, on a Trunk Line Railroad which will produce two, three and four crops from the same field each year, and which can be purchased at very low prices and on easy terms? About stock raising where the extreme of winter feeding is but six (6) short weeks? About places where truck growing and fruit raising yield enormous returns each year? Of a land where you can live out of doors every day in the year? Of opportunities for establishing profitable manufacturing industries, of rich mineral locations and splendid business openings?

If you want to know the details of any or all of these write me. I will gladly advise you fully and truthfully.

LEGAL AID IN LONDON.

Legal advice and assistance to poor tenants are given gratuitously in the east end by a voluntary organization founded for the purpose six years ago. A poor man's lawyer fund which has been in operation at Tonybee hall is now linked with the East London tenants' and general legal protection committee, as the combined societies are called. A member attends at Tonybee hall each Tuesday to see all the applicants. Frequently nothing more than this preliminary interview is required, but where necessary a case is referred to a solicitor and action may be commenced. In this way tenants too poor to pay for legal aid have been assisted to obtain justice from exacting landlords or bailiffs improperly distraining, and injured workmen have secured compensation.—London Telegraph.

An Unpatented Invention.
Frederick P. Fish, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, says that Edison's greatest invention was never patented. "Years ago," said Mr. Fish, "when the telephone first came into use, people used to ring a bell and then say ponderously over the wire: 'Are you there? Are you ready to talk?' Well, Mr. Edison did away with that awkward, un-American way of doing things. He caught up a receiver one day and yelled into the transmitter one word, a most satisfactory, capable, soul satisfying word, 'Hello!' It has gone clear around the world. The Japs use it. It is heard in Turkey. Russia could not do without it. Neither could Patagonia."

The Professional Athlete.
William Lang, who ran two miles in 9 minutes and 11½ seconds on Aug. 1, 1863, thereby establishing a record which has not since been beaten, is an inmate of an English almshouse. He was a professional athlete—that is, an athlete who exhibits his prowess for pay instead of one who develops his muscles for the sake of making his body a more perfect instrument of his mind to be used in the serious work of the world. The end of the professional athlete is seldom as happy or as prosperous as the end of the professional farmer or carpenter or mason or blacksmith.—Youth's Companion.

Radio Activity.
Sir William Ramsay believes that it is quite possible that in some cases bread is radio active. He thinks that the radio activity would not do any harm, as is shown by the presence of radium in the waters at Bath and at Wiesbaden. In both cases the water has to be drunk on the spot in order to get the full value of the cure. Sir William Ramsay thinks that this is partly due to the radio active properties of the water. He is inclined to think that there are radio active gases in the air. The "freshness" of the air at certain times he believes is due to their presence.

Iron Band Pavement.
A new kind of street pavement has recently been introduced in Germany, which is said to excel in durability. It consists of artificial stones of concrete held together by iron bands. Joining stones of this pavement laid along street car rails save the rails and make easier traveling for the wheels of ordinary vehicles. The pavement is relatively cheap, as almost any kind of broken stone mixed with cement serves well for constructive material. It also answers for sidewalks and stable floors.

The Plague In India.
The serious news regarding the plague in India indicates that no progress has been made in the control of the disease. On the contrary, the situation is becoming worse year by year and not only threatens to be but is already one of the greatest catastrophes of modern times. Have those responsible for the welfare of our Indian empire fully realized the gravity of the situation, either from its humane or political aspects?—London Lancet.

The Moon.
Certain French astronomers have recently come to the conclusion that the solidification of the moon extends from the surface to the center and not, as the American scientists think, from the center to the periphery. This view would modify various existing theories. Their conclusion is drawn from the examination of photographs executed at the observatory for reproduction in the new lunar atlas.

The Correct Thing.
According to Nature, the total eclipse of the sun on Aug. 30 next will take place at a time when the number of spots on its face is about the maximum. It is only human that in such circumstances the sun should wear a veil.—London Punch.

COLORADO.
Which is the best way to reach Colorado? A few decades since the best way to reach Colorado was by wagon or "prairie schooner." Nowadays the best way to reach Colorado is via the BURLINGTON ROUTE.

This great railroad has its own thrown trains over its own rails from Chicago, Omaha, St. Louis and Kansas City, as well as from other important points, direct to Colorado.

You can leave Jacksonville on the Burlington at 11:30 a. m. and make good connection, either at St. Louis or Galesburg, with these through trains, arriving in Denver the next evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Burlington's Denver trains are standards by which others are judged. They are made up of the best equipment human skill can devise.

Burlington roadbed is solid and track is smooth, with the result that riding on the Burlington is always enjoyable. The dining car service is known by all experienced travelers to be so good that there is nothing better.

If you anticipate going to Colorado or to the Pacific coast, you will make no mistake if you select the Burlington. Full information regarding rates and connections will be furnished on application to Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marring of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain to be sure, but if properly managed no more harmful in its effects upon the human form divine than any other natural function.
MOTHER'S FRIEND
is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.
It is a liniment, it is harmless, it is potent, it is priceless in its results, it is Mother's Friend. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Our book of priceless value sent free to all women.

Feet Swelled From Frightful Eczema
Could Not Wear Shoes—Cured by
D. D. D. Prescription
Read This Letter From a Columbus, Ohio Business Man.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 5th, 1904.
Gentlemen: For several years I was a sufferer from Eczema, the affliction affecting my hands, arms and feet. At times my feet became so swollen that I could not wear my shoes, while the constant itching of the eruption on my hands and arms became almost unbearable. Upon the recommendation of another such sufferer as myself, I began the use of D. D. D., and it gave me immediate relief. I have now fully recovered from my ailment, and I give D. D. D. the credit for affecting what is to me and my friends, a marvelous cure.
Truly yours, GUY J. GOBLE.

Don't be fooled into thinking that skin troubles comes from blood impurities, and don't ruin your stomach with purges and blood remedies. Eczema and all skin diseases are caused by little germs that attack the skin externally. D. D. D. Prescription kills these germs and leaves the skin clear, soft and healthy. Its work seems almost miraculous. If you are skeptical go to the druggist whose name appears below and he will show you photos and proofs positive that D. D. D. will actually cure any and all skin diseases.

D. D. D. costs but $1.00 per bottle and is guaranteed to cure any skin disease or money refunded.

MODERN SHOE REPAIRING

In the shoe repairing business to stay. The work in the repair department has increased so in the last few months that we are forced to hire another shoemaker. Fred Gustafson, of Lynn, Mass., has been secured to operate the machine and in sewing the soles and finishing the work.

One Grade of Leather

No discrimination in the leather, one grade only being used, and it the best. Soles sewed on with the machine will wear longer and be more comfortable. No wetting or disturbing of the innersole, it is the only practical way to half sole shoes. These machines are no experiment, they have been thoroughly tried and have proven satisfactory. Have your soles sewed on and finished by machinery. Good, prompt and efficient service. Half soles sewed, 50 and 60c. Half soles backed, 35, 40 and 50c.

LITERBERRY HORSE FAIR

A Large Gathering and a Fine Success Throughout.

For some years the Literberry horse show has been an annual feature of the place and it has come to be an event to which all in that vicinityity look forward to with no little pleasure and this year the attendance seemed to break all previous records. There were people from Virginia, Beardstown, Jacksonville and many other places in greater numbers than ever attended such an affair before and all seemed to have a fine time. Judges were taken from the crowd for the different classes and their decisions seemed to give general satisfaction. The president of the association is J. S. Hitchens and L. F. Jordan is the capable clerk. The streets were thronged with vehicles, many found well out of the place, so great was the demand for room. Everything seemed to pass off without a hitch and all was smooth and pleasant. The good church ladies had a fine spread for the hungry multitude, so there was nothing lacking on that score. Every person seemed to be in good humor and there were lots of people on the streets of the little place. A great event truly is the Literberry horse show. The following were the awards:

The prizes were awarded as follows:

Draft foal—First, D. T. Liter; second, J. W. Liter.

Two-year-old—First, J. W. Liter; second, Angus Taylor.

Draft mare and foal—Howard Liter.

Road foal—First, Crum & Crum; second, William Crum.

Saddlers, 4-years-old—First, Bert Wade; second, Charlie Black.

THE CARNIVAL.

The Patterson-Brainerd Carnival company continues to draw large crowds. The attendance Thursday was the largest of the week and the shows were well patronized.

CONCURRED IN ACTION OF BOARD.

The board of supervisors has concurred in the action of the county commissioners in the granting of the right of way for the extension of the street railway to Nichols park from South Main street. The work will be commenced at once and will be rushed through to completion.

Warts and Moles.

For warts and moles get a few cents' worth of nitric acid. Apply at night with a wooden toothpick. Wet them over but once. In the morning take a needle, not a pin, and pick off all that will come away easily and then wash. Repeat this until the roots can be picked out. There may be some itching, but no soreness.

Cheap Floor Stain.

A cheap floor stain can be made of permanganate of potash. Use two quarts of water to one ounce of permanganate. If the stain is too dark use more water. Brush the liquid over the floor, let it dry in overnight and then rub the floor with boiled linseed oil.

Worth Knowing.

Hay sprinkled with a little chloride of lime and left for an hour in a closed room will remove the smell of new paint.

A tin cup filled with vinegar and placed on the back of the stove will prevent the smell of cooking getting over the house.

M'MEANS FUND

Contributions in Behalf of Stricken Family Received at This Office.

There were many subscriptions made voluntarily at this office yesterday as a relief fund for the mother and eight children who survive in the McMeans family. Neighbors have kindly offered their assistance and contributed money and other articles to assist those who have been brought so suddenly to face life's battles with the head of the family and two sons taken from them.

A father with eleven children found need for every dollar which he brought into the home and his sudden death not only removes the one on whom they depended for support but there is left no funds for the mother and children to provide for the necessities of life. There are those who are soliciting funds to assist the family in arranging for a respectable burial of those who gave up their lives for each other and contributions have been liberal. There is need yet of money for the members of the family and all contributions left at this office will be acknowledged through the columns of the paper each day and the funds will be given over to the mother and her children.

The following voluntary subscriptions were left at this office yesterday and should there be others who feel disposed to contribute to a worthy cause the same can be left here or at the Courier office or with others who are assisting in the work. Following are contributors and the amounts:
